MAXIMIZE YOUR BAT SPEED WITH THE BT MODEL!

BT MODEL

The new BT Model is simply about bat speed. D-Bat has designed this bat with a tapered barrel. This design allows a larger sweet spot (5") and lowers the balance point significantly. Bat speed increases 3-5 MPH at the same overall weight. The weight, which is usually at the end of the bat, is relocated to the hitting area of the bat.

This is a superior design for players making the transition from aluminum bats to wood bats.

The BT Model comes in three handle sizes:

Small = BTS .920 (with traditional knob)

Medium = BTM .935 (with slightly tapered knob)

Large = BTL .960 (with full tapered knob)

BT models are available in both ash and maple.

THE PREMIER MAPLE BAT... NOTHING HITS IT HARDER!

We've been manufacturing maple bats for some time, and the popularity of maple bats has exploded over the last three years. Sugar maple (acer saccharum), sometimes called black maple, rock maple, or hard rock maple, is the ideal wood for building maple bats. All other maples are not classified as hardwoods. The comparison of maple to ash can be simplified as follows: Sugar maple is a more dense, harder, stronger, and heavier wood than ash. We're not aware of any scientific testing that shows maple bats hit harder or faster than ash even though most players believe they do. Be sure when buying maple bats that the manufacturer guarantees sugar maple and not some other variety.
